

Population context guides the per-neuron MLP readout

Positive values favor the hybrid transformer. Four historically searched mice; no independent animal confirmation.
All four primary controls and every required seed subset must pass.